

30 Second Sunday: Newport Beach

I'm trying something new today. I like the idea of a series of short, 30 second, video clips from different locations in Orange County. In fact, I like the idea so much I'm starting this "30 Second Sunday" series.

It might change from week to week until I get the hang of it. Please let me know if you like it. I would love it if other people got involved and posted their own, but let's just take baby steps for now...baby steps uploading on Vimeo...baby steps uploading it to my blog... (A little "What about Bob" reference.)
