

Alive in Wonderland: Driving the Freeways of Los Angeles Vlog #4

I had to drive to Los Angeles for a meeting last week. Though I live in Orange County, I've spent very little time in LA. I recognize some of the street names that line the 5 Freeway, but only from hearing them on traffic reports or because they are famous—like Hollywood Blvd.

When my meeting was over, I headed back to Orange County and made this video. In it, I give you driving etiquette tips, whine about finding an In-N-Out Burger, and reveal one of my deepest fears.

Driving Los Angeles freeways back to Orange County vlog #4 from Suzanne Broughton on Vimeo.