

Finally! The New Issue of Broughton Quarterly is Here!

Here it is, the Winter issue of Broughton Quarterly!

I didn't mention this because I wanted it to be a surprise, but Annie did a sketch (page 10) for the "notes" section. I think it turned out really well. Also note the picture of the dashing Publisher on page 4.

I got to keep the dress and wore it for the first time to a Christmas Party on Saturday night.

Elise is now standing naked in the corner, thinking of ways to get back at me. I am just happy we wear the same size.

If you would like to receive a copy of BQ in the mail go here and fill in all the appropriate info (its free!)

I am already thinking of ideas for the next issue...
