

“Fun Money” and other concepts lost on my Husband

Concepts Lost On My Husband:

Fun Money

The concept: money that was not expected can be splurged without guilt or responsibility.

His take: Money is money.

Accessories for dogs

The concept: dogs have the need and right to be accessorized with diamonds, sweaters and $65 leashes.

His take: It's a Friggin' dog.

The Rule of Calorie Transference

The concept: If I don't purchase french fries with my meal and eat them off his plate, they are calorie-free.

His take: Get your own.

Decorative Pillows

The concept: They pull the room together.

His Take: Worthless, time-consuming, fluff.

Laura Ashley Nightgowns

The concept: You think you look like Elizabeth Bennet.

His take: He thinks you look like Elizabeth Bennet.

