

How I know my daughter will transition into her teen years easily

My daughter, who is six, said to me tonight, "I am so weak with hunger, I can't even blink my eyes."

It is properly overly dramatic with just a hint of creativity, wit and angst...most definitely a good sign.