

I'm so vain...I probably think I'm top recommended because I'm good or something

Not to be all talking about myself or anything...oh, too late, but I happened to noticed "Alive in Wonderland" is the top recommended article on ocregister.com! Not that I was looking.

I KNEW you wouldn't believe me—YOU. So here is proof:

Yay! All of my whining and compulsive emailing has paid off. Please keep on reading and if you think of it, check recommend, then I can be up on the home page, in the big leagues. (See accompanying stories. I truly have no business being there.)

I emailed Keith Sharon and insisted I get my very own parking space now, but I think I am aiming too low—now I'm thinking corner office, with views of the construction on the 5 Freeway. Ha! I haven't ever been to The Register building, but I wave at it on my way to The Main Place.

"You're So Vain" Carly Simon