

So many opportunities and I have taken every one

As some of you may remember, I have been working on a feature story about the insanely awesome OC Roller Girls for the Orange County Register. It went up today on their website. You can read it by clicking below, and if you like it, please select “recommend” at the top of the page. I’m enormously grateful for all the support I have received from everyone who reads me—thank you!

Right here to go to the story.

The Register has given this blogger so many opportunities and I have taken every one. If you are a writer in Orange County and have a story idea, I strongly encourage you to send it to Andre Mouchard, (amouchard@ocregister.com). He doesn’t usually bite and almost always watches his language in emails (you’re on your own if you call him).

Good luck and let me know how it goes...
