

Those Smarties at Sephora

Life just keeps getting more complicated. For instance, does anyone besides my husband know what exactly you can bring on a plane? Which products can accompany you? Which will get brutally tossed by some heartless security person—lost forever in the abyss of an airport trash bin?

If you can't bear the thought of handing over your precious moisturizer or shampoo, then listen up! Those smarties at Sephora have done all the measuring for you. Their Plane Pretty Line has lots of choices. You might even find a new "must have."
