

We've been having fun all summer long...

Today will be a nice, summer-like day in Orange County. But, looking at the weather report for the week, it appears our summer weather might be coming to an end.

Here is a short animated film by Jeff Scher that will wrap summer up nicely for us.

I really love the colors and the theme but the music that this was set to is horrible. If I had my way it would have been, "We've Been Having Fun All Summer Long," by the Beach Boys.

You can see other films by Jeff at his blog on the New York Times website. Happy SUNDAY!
