

1-2 I've got a crush on you

☒ Had a date last night with a charming 4 year old. We went to The Old Spaghetti Factory in Newport Beach. We sat in the trolley, drank Italian sodas, and ate three loaves of bread! He was such a gentleman, he pushed all the crosswalk buttons for me on our way there and he even let me finish his vegetables!

After dinner we went for a walk on the beach. He found a shiny penny on the boardwalk and threw it in the ocean and made a wish with it.

“What did you wish for?” I asked him later in the car.

“I hope you're my mommy forever!” he said as he batted his enormous eyelashes.

Oh, and “I hope I get to have a Transformer party for my birthday (next March),” he added.

What a smooth operator...
