

One thing leads to another

The FIXX was right, "One thing (really does) lead to another." I posted the picture of high school-me on The Mom Blog at ocregister.com and I told Jenny -Grey Hairs and Teddy Bears-Angelici I would give her $5 to post a picture from her Madonna days, and she did! – This is my fierce look.

I know, flippin' awesome!

Then I double dog dared Theresa -Blog on Board- -Walker, the editor of the Mom Blog (among other things) to do the same. She too, did it!

K- the 70's weren't nearly as brutal as the 80's as far as regret goes...

All of this 80's/high school talk got my friend Lisa Mertins nostalgic for times gone-by and she posted this on her site – Lisa Mertins' Life Illustrated.

Doesn't she look very jet-set-ish and sophisticated?

Please come and "Take On Me" and post a picture of yourself from high school/the 80's. It won't be the "Bitterest Pilll," but "I Confess," it does hurt a little.