

Today on “Mommy’s mind is not a toy” Introducing kids to the 80’s

Today on The Mom Blog at ocregister.com, I show this picture to everyone without a touch of regret..

Read about it by clicking here...I want to know, what kind of music have you gotten your kids into? What drives you nuts? Leave me a comment on The Mom Blog...

The back story to this picture is this; I was obsessed with Joe Jackson during this period of my young life and wore only pink and blue everything (nice blue sweater, pink polo shirt). Why? because in Steppin’ Out he sings, “you dress in pink and blue just like a child.” They are still my “signature colors.”